Asthma currently affects more than 150 million people worldwide with almost half of these experiencing symptoms that disrupt their everyday lives. In addition, prevalence is rapidly increasing on a global basis, particularly in young children and adults. Astonishingly, 180,000 people still lose their lives to asthma each year. "Asthma: An Atlas of Investigation and Management" is an illustrated textbook and reference for clinicians. Rich with photographic images supported by straight forward descriptions and explanations of each problem, the book is a practical and accessible resource that all doctors treating this condition will find invaluable in their daily practice.
