John R. Griffith : Designing 21st Century Healthcare: Leadership in Hospitals and Healthcare Systems (A C H E Management Series) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Designing 21st Century Healthcare: Leadership in Hospitals and Healthcare Systems (A C H E Management Series):

Popular author John R. Griffith, FACHE, gets to the heart of health system management with this intimate look at three leading integrated delivery systems-Henry Ford Health System in Detroit; Legacy Health System in Portland, Oregon; and Moses Cone Health System in Greensboro, North Carolina. Compelling interviews with system leaders combined with Griffith's insightful conclusions make this an ideal book for senior executives, physician leaders, and trustees.

"The strengths [of this book] are too numerous to mention . . . It is difficult to imagine how faculty and students in health administration programs could not benefit from making it a required text." -- Paul B. Hoffman, Dr.P.H., FACHE, Senior Vice President, Aon Consulting, San Francisco
About the Author John R. Griffith, FACHE, is Andrew Pattullo Collegiate Professor, Department of Health Services Management and Policy, School of Public Health, the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. As one of the premier writers and thinkers in healthcare management, Griffith has authored numerous publications, including The Well-Managed Health Care Organization, which won the ACHE Hamilton Book Award in 1987, Reengineering Health Care, and The Moral Challenges of Health Care Management.
